“It’s a huge year already for American multimedia artist Kerry Tribe, with a new baby and concurrent shows in LA and London. For this UK leg, she shows new work commissioned locally as part of an institutional collaboration. Tribe is known for audio work that serves simultaneous narrative functions, collapsing history and the present moment, as well as for films and video-based installations. These approaches are currently harnessed to a minor obsession with outer space – from air travel to the star-studded firmament.”

Camden Arts Centre says...

Camden Arts Centre is delighted to present a solo exhibition by American artist and filmmaker Kerry Tribe. Her large-scale projects in film, video, and sound form an ongoing investigation into memory, subjectivity and doubt. For this exhibition, Tribe will show her new body of work Dead Star Light commissioned as part of the 3 series - a collaboration between Camden Arts Center, London; Arnolfini, Bristol; and Modern Art Oxford, alongside other existing works.
